21st Century
Urban Boarding
in Central London

John Dalton

Co-Principal

David Game College is an exciting educational establishment to be part of these days. Ambitious, driven and innovative, the College provides all of its students with exceptional academic and pastoral support. The addition of boarding to our day-College provision is one of the most important developments in the College's history. I strongly believe that boarding not only enhances and enriches the academic experience of students, it also provides the environment for students to go beyond the core curriculum, and explore and discover what really interests them. Boarding improves everything we do: it helps students form strong friendships and a cohesive college community, it offers students the opportunity to grow in confidence and develop new skills that prepare them for life.

Boarders have all of the College's facilities at their disposal. There is always scope to establish new clubs or arrange trips. London certainly has a great deal to offer, our weekend boarding trips are going to include sightseeing around London as well as surrounding areas.

My role, and that of all the staff at the College, is to provide you with a safe, nurturing environment within which no student will be limited or defined by their past, and where dreams can become a reality and all can excel academically. I look forward to welcoming you to David Game College Boarding.

Brett Suverkrop

Head of Boarding

I consider it an honour to be Head of Boarding at David Game College – offering a new and modern take on boarding within the dynamic and culturally rich environment of Central London.

My role, and that of the boarding team, is to look after our boarding students and ensure that their every need is catered for. But what really excites me the most is the new boarding house – all boarders will have their very own room, built to a high standard and situated in the beating heart of the City of London, near Tower Bridge, the Tower of London and a host of iconic buildings and institutions.

The combination of the new state-of-the-art urban boarding house facility combined with the professionalism of David Game College staff will create an excellent student experience, one which I am proud to lead. Ultimately, my real role is to provide a safe and secure environment for boarders to take control of their own academic and career pathway. Boarding plays a vital role in establishing resilience and independence. Having moved to the UK from South Africa, I know what it is like to move to another country and all the challenges that can come with this. I look forward to welcoming you to David Game College boarding.

Safeguarding

Safeguarding of our boarding students is our number one priority. All students should be able to learn and excel within a safe environment. Under the umbrella of safeguarding, students' wellbeing and mental health are also prioritised and all staff are trained in safeguarding and positive mental health techniques. The College has a commitment to listen carefully to students' needs and direct them to those who can offer advice and guidance. The College appoints independent listeners and a wide range of contacts that the students can access. In addition, the College has structures and systems in place to monitor boarders' wellbeing and safety, including:

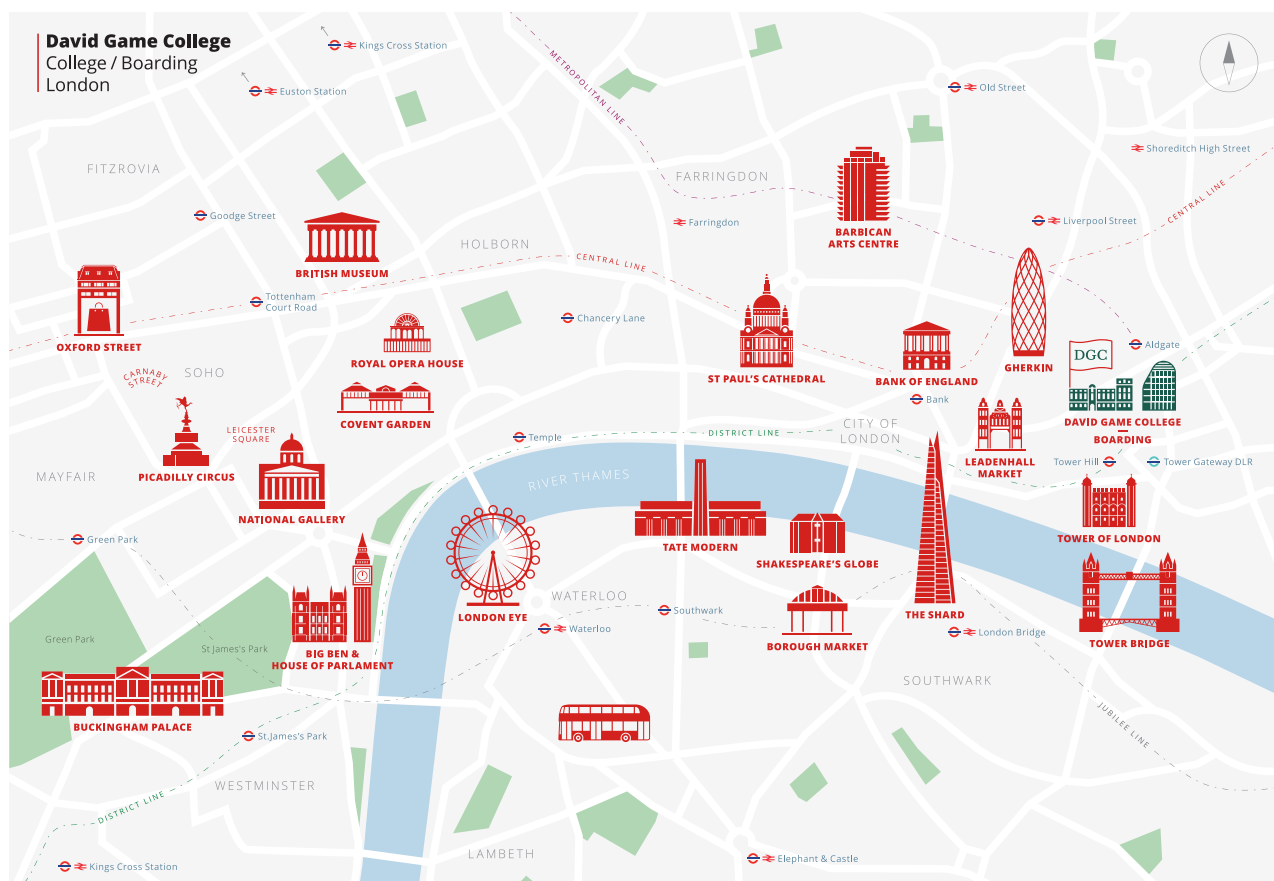

- 24/7 On-site Support Team
- 4 Live-in House Parents
- CCTV
- Night Security

Central London Location

David Game College is located in the heart of the City of London, with part of the ancient walls of the Roman City of Londinium running through its basement and displayed in a museum within the Boarding House itself. Historic buildings such as the Tower of London, Bank of England and St Paul's Cathedral are interspersed with modern steel and glass skyscrapers - the Gherkin, the Walkie Talkie, the Cheesegrater - which mixes the ancient and the modern, and tells the story of the development of London over the past 2000 years. Shopping areas such as Spitalfields Market and Borough Market (London's most renowned food market) along with the art, design and fashion hub of Brick Lane and Shoreditch are all within easy walking distance. Many of London's elite universities such as LSE, UCL, King's College London, City and SOAS can also be easily visited from the College. All of which creates a unique and inspiring environment for our students to live and learn in. David Game College is only a short bus or underground journey away from London's many mainline train stations. It is also quick and easy to reach, via express train and underground, from the major London airports of Gatwick, Heathrow or Stansted.
